

Stag.i.aire / nm and nf (plural Stagiaires).

Etymology: French. 1. Trainee 2. Intern 3. A stagi- aire is a person undertaking an internship. It is a system of on-the job training to assist students with their transition into their professional vocation. Although interns are typically college or university students, they can also be high school students or post-graduate adults. Generally, an internship works as an exchange of services for experience between the student and his or her employer. They can also use an internship to determine if they have an interest in a particular vocation, create a network of contacts, discover new destinations or gain school credit. Some interns also find permanent paid employment with the companies in which they trained. Thus, employers also benefit, as experienced interns need little or no training when they begin full time regular employment.
